

Taking back tomorrow

Dedicated to a safer South Africa

As the leader in vehicle tracking, Tracker has become a household name in stolen vehicle recovery and vehicle monitoring in South Africa. For more than a decade we have worked tirelessly towards our ultimate goal: to create a safer South Africa for all of us.

We firmly believe that by standing together and uniting with law abiding South Africans and Tracker with our unique partnership with the South African Police Services, we have both the power and the ability to help effect a real turnaround in vehicle crime.

We hope that you choose to become a valued partner as we endeavour to take back tomorrow.

By doing the Tracker Selftest at a participating BP Service Station, or at Tracker approved test locations, you have convenience and peace of mind that the testing of your Tracker system is taking place in a controlled environment.

Working Together towards a better tomorrow

The fight against crime is an ongoing battle, a battle which cannot be fought alone. We believe that in order to build a great nation we need to stand together because through our collective actions we can build a better future.

Partner with Tracker to unite against crime and help take massive strides in taking back tomorrow.

Why don't you join us?

This brochure is printed on Sappi Triple Green. A paper that has been manufactured in an environmentally responsible manner, which is recyclable and biodegradable. Just another way we are taking back tomorrow.

Tracker Selftest

Have you ever wondered whether the Tracker system in your vehicle is still fully operational?

To put your mind at ease, Tracker has a convenient way for you to test your Tracker unit.

You can test your unit at participating BP Service Stations and at other sites offering the Tracker Selftest facility, free of charge, as often as required. We recommend that you test your unit once a year.

The benefit of Tracker Selftest is to ensure that your vehicle's recovery system is fully functional.

 Tracker Selftest is only necessary for Tracker Retrieve and Tracker Alert as Tracker Skytrax performs automated health checks.*

Reasons to believe

Here are a few reasons why we hope you will consider joining us:

- Invented the industry – Tracker’s technology brought vehicle tracking to the world in the United States in 1986.
- Largest vehicle tracking company – Globally, there are some 2-million Trackers fitted to vehicles throughout 30 countries - over 550 000 vehicles in South Africa alone.
- Most recoveries in the world – Tracker’s technology has recovered in excess of 250 000 stolen and hijacked vehicles throughout the world. In South Africa alone, Tracker has recovered some 42 000 vehicles in only 12 years.
- Largest recovery fleet – Tracker has some 1300 recovery vehicles and aircraft in its recovery arsenal – the largest in Africa.
- Most arrests – Tracker’s recoveries in South Africa, by working in partnership with the SAPS, have resulted in some 7500 arrests, more than any vehicle tracking company on the continent.
- Global power – Tracker frequently exchanges information with partners in crime-ravaged countries such as Columbia, Brazil, Russia and Mexico to ensure that we remain one step ahead of global crime syndicates.
- National recovery network – Tracker owns its own radio-satellite recovery network which covers almost 99% of South Africa’s population.
- Established track record with insurers – Tracker has earned the respect of all major insurance companies, many of whom offer discounted premiums to customers who choose Tracker.
